Therefore, the Northern Lighthouse Company decided to build a lighthouse above it and assigned the three men to keep the lights of that lighthouse burning throughout the night to guide ships and sailors. To land and harbour, but as the days passed, ships passing near the island began to notice something strange: the lights of the lighthouse were no longer shining?! The company was notified, so it sent a team to find out the reason. When they arrived on the island, they did not find the three guards, so what happened to them and what makes them disappear..

The idea In more details :

The rocks wasn't allow ships to cross. Therefore, the Northern Lighthouse Company decided to build a lighthouse above it .

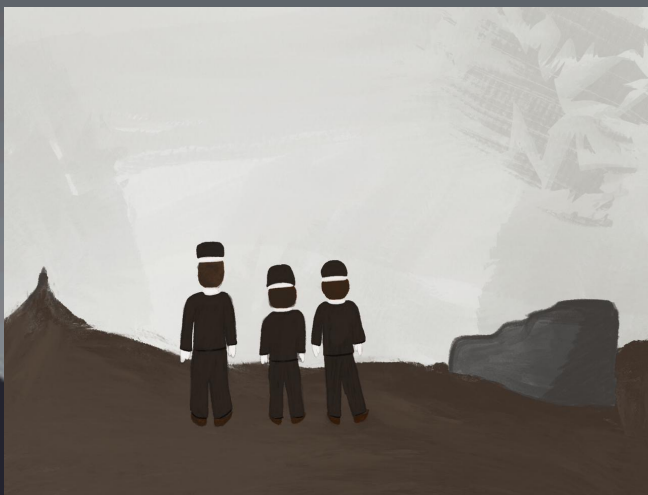

The company assigned three men to keep the lights of that lighthouse burning throughout the night to guide ships and sailors.

as the days passed, ships passing near the island began to notice something strange: the lights of the lighthouse were no longer shining?! The company was notified, so it sent a team to find out the reason. When they arrived on the island, they did not find the three guards. All they found were a shoe, three plates, and Thomas Marshall's diary.

Everything was normal except for what Thomas wrote in his diary: "A strong wind, the likes of which I have not seen in 20 years." What is strange is that the crew is professional and accustomed to storms. But the strangest thing is that there was no storm on those nights at all. The investigator did not find evidence to explain what happened, and to this day no one knows the reason for their disappearance....

In the end people began making stories about what happened to them

There are those who believe that a giant wave hit the island and took the three guards with it.

There are those who believe that they were abducted by aliens.

There are those who believe that they were the victim of a giant squid.
